EVANGELINE

FOREWORD....

In appreciation of a Louisianian's love for his background of colorful folklore and traditions, we have used for the theme of this volume of L'Acadien Longfellow's "Evangeline". We hope that the volume and the theme will in years to come help preserve the beauty and strength of Louisiana's "flame within" and keep alive our fondest memories of Southwestern.

DEDICATION...

To the memory of Evangeline and those valiant Acadians who came to Louisiana from Grand Pre and whose existence here has formed such an integral part of the tapestry of Louisiana's background, we dedicate this book.

at times and their bodies weary,
Hope still guided them on,

Showed them her lakes of light

Coaching Staff

COACH R. L. BROWNE

WITH an almost complete change in the coaching staff, "Coach Browne" has become the oldest remaining mentor of the Institute's coaching staff. This year he resumes his charge of the S. L. I. track men, with another fine season in prospect. Since he came to Southwestern from De-Ridder High School in 1923, he has turned out track teams and individual track men who have gone far in an athletic way. During his nine years here never have one of his teams been defeated by a school of their own class, and always rate right close to the top in S. I. A. A. conference circles.

COACH T. F. WILBANKS

Coach Wilbanks became head varsity football coach this part year with the resignation of T. R. Mobley. Wilbanks comes to us from the upstate Homer High School, where for many years his teams have been among the best in their class. Now at Southwestern, Coach Wilbanks is intent on maintaining the standard of winning teams he puts out, and under him the S. L. I. grid future is very bright. Reinhardt, varsity basketball coach, has proven a very efficient assistant football coach by the fine record and reputation the Freshmen made, under his coaching during the past season.

COACH J. C. REINHARDT

A graduate of the University of Iowa in 1931, Reinhardt accepted as his first coaching assignment that of head varsity basketball coach at Southwestern, succeeding Pickell, coach for the past three years. An All-American forward at Iowa, Reinhardt has already developed several fine individual performers and will undoubtedly have annexed another S. I. A. A. championship before long. Coach Reinhardt also has charge of Physical Education classes. Morgan Rodemacher, former S. L. I. man, was this year appointed assistant Freshman coach to Reinhardt, a very valuable addition to our coaching staff.

WITH one month of training behind them under their new mentors, Coaches Wilbanks and Reinhardt had developed with the little material they had to work with, a comparatively smooth-functioning football team, which had imbued in it true fighting spirit and a sincere love for their coaches.

The season was opened with a home game on October 3 against Southeastern College of Hammond. Both the Bulldog backfield and line were outweighed several pounds to the man and though fighting against overwhelming odds, so grim and determined was their defensive that Southeastern was fortunate to earn a 6-6 tie.

After the Southeastern contest the lack of reserve strength began to take its toll for the scoring and defensive power of the Bulldogs' offense and defense and the team went into a series of hard games weakened by injuries and lack of reserve power. The result was the same in each succeeding game, but inevitable. For a half or better the opposition faced a defense that was nothing less than impregnable, and were kept hustling on the defense by a fast, clever, hard-digging Bulldog backfield. Then somewhere along about the half or the third quarter when fresh men were needed to carry on, the necessary replacements were lacking, and the opposition then forged ahead.

The next game was also played on the home field, against the powerful Marshall College Texans. The boys from Texas found it necessary to take to the air to do most of their gaining, and a baffling aerial attack managed to land them ahead with a four-touchdown margin, and the Bulldogs held scoreless. The score was 25-0.

The next week found the Bulldogs in Ruston to engage the rival upstate Bulldogs of Louisiana Tech. The score of this game, 38-0, betrays the kind of game it was entirely. As far as actual play and ground football goes, it was all even, but a perfected passing system of the Tech boys scored for them time and again, or placed them within easy scoring distance, and the upstate Bulldogs had added another victory to its list.

Following the Tech contest came the game that was considered the toughest on the schedule, that with Springhill College of Mobile. Springhill had met some of the best teams in the S. I. C., including Tulane, the Champions, and had made a creditable showing in every game. For almost a half they were held scoreless by the Bulldogs, then forged ahead of a crippled team. The best they could do even at that was to maintain a four-touchdown margin.

The next game was played on "Homecoming Day", and was 'ballyhooed' to a tense point. Those who wanted the Bulldogs to "make Homecoming real by beating Louisiana College" had the satisfaction of witnessing a very real homecoming. In a hard-fought game the Bulldogs triumphed 7-6.

The next contest was in Clinton, Mississippi, against the powerful Mississippi College squad, and though both line and backfield fought hard, the final whistle found them overwhelmed 54-0.

Then for the second time this season, the Bulldogs were hosts to a Texas team. This time it was Lon Morris College. Before the game was two minutes old the Bulldogs had scored and made good the extra point. An amazed Lon Morris team fought back for three quarters, in vain. However, in the latter part of the last quarter, the visitors passed their way to two touchdowns, making good two of the three attempts at extra point.

In the final game of the season with their old arch-rivals, Louisiana Normal, at Natchitoches, the Bulldogs were defeated 38-2.

THIS year found S. L. I. with one of the best aggregations of Freshmen football stars in the history of the school. Two smooth, fast teams were formed from the lot and seemed to be an almost unbeatable machine. The first two games proved easy though they were with two powerful high school teams, Morgan City and Abbeville. Both were defeated by a four-touchdown margin. Then the Bullpups conclusively proved their ability in a game with the Louisiana College Freshmen, from which they emerged victors 34-0. A powerful Fort Crockett team next bowed to the Bullpups, 46-6. Then in a game played on a wet field and with uncertain footing, the Bullpups dropped their final game 6-8 to the Louisiana Normal Freshmen.

FAULK

CAPTAIN and mainstay of the team, Boyd Faulk, Bulldog guard for the past three years, this year played his last game of ball for S. L. I., being lost to graduation. Always level-headed, Faulk made a fine team leader and his departure will leave vacant a position hard to fill both in view of actual play and clean, fine, sportsmanship.

PENNINGTON

Though only playing his second year of varsity basketball, this sharp-shooting Bulldog player hit his stride and came flying through another season as high-point man in most of the games played. The tall and rangy Bulldog center is eligible for another year of varsity play and with the anticipated return of several others a great team is in prospect.

PERRIN

It is a well-understood fact that Luther Perrin, flashy freshman of 1930-31, and All-state forward in 1930, would be one of the men chosen to fill the vacancies left in the Bulldog offensive by the graduation of Rodemacher and Bordelon. The way in which he has filled the position is phenomenal. Fast, clever, a master of deception and an accurate shooter. Bulldog followers are mighty glad that he still has two years of varsity competition before him.

LEVY

"Levy" was one of the two men chosen to fill the big gap left by the loss of Claude Hamic. A very experienced and shifty guard, he worked in very well with Captain Faulk. Levy is eligible for one more year, before graduation.

FERTITTA

THIS colorful, well-built boy up from the Freshman ranks was the other man chosen to mainly fill one of the vacancies at forward. Fertitta, though relatively inexperienced, proved his full worth conclusively in several games throughout the season. With the added experience and continued improvement, he and Perrin should form a mighty sweet pair of forwards next season.

NAQUIN

Naquin is the other guard who helped cover the vacancy there. Really a fine steady player, he saw little action until near the middle of the season, when in the Louisiana State game his play earned for him a permanent position. He saw action in every succeeding game, and will be out next year to continue and improve his play.

SONNIER

Experienced and a fair forward, Sonnier proved a very valuable man early in the season, and received the call to begin almost every game, and did creditably well each time. Throughout the season he proved to be a fine man, alternating at either guard or forward.

CROWDER

A senior, Crowder has consistently played good ball, and carried about him a sense of reliability and dependence which aided much in fostering team work. A good, hard, consistent worker, Crowder played mostly in the capacity of substitute center to Pennington.

Track 1931

THE 1931 track season was a highly successful one for S. L. I. spikemen. Engaging in four dual meets, the Bulldogs split the bill, winning two and dropping two by close scores. In the S. I. A. A. district meet held in Alexandria the S. L. I. team amassed 37 points to easily clinch second place, first going to Loyola of New Orleans with 49 points. At the Southwestern Relay Carnival this year, some of the finest track and field men in the South were present, and S. L. I. placed third. Team honors were carried off by L. S. U., with Tulane and Loyola second.

Bulldog spikemen duplicated their overwhelming victory of last year by again defeating Louisiana College, the score this year being 85-27. Louisiana Normal went down to another defeat before the Bulldogs in a close and interesting meet to the tune of 66-46. Then came the meet that was the thrill of the season, that with Louisiana Tech. The two "Bulldog" teams met on the Southwestern track, and from the start the scoring split evenly, and remained so until the final tally found Tech the winner 60-57. This marked the first defeat that a Southwestern team has ever suffered in track to a college of its size.

Loyola, winner of the District S. I. A. A. triumphed over the Bulldogs in a dual meet, with one of the strongest dual meet teams in the country. Loyola's ace, and Olympic hope, Emmet Toppino, won the sprints for the New Orleans boys.

Bulldog spikemen this year were captained by Otto Broussard, popular little broad jumper. Injuries throughout the season kept him from reaching his top performance, but he was valuable, nevertheless, in both individual point garnering and incentive to the team. Aubrey Hawkins, Alternate Captain, was the outstanding individual performer throughout. Hawkins showed well in both low and high hurdles, and on the field in the high jump and pole vault. Other men lost to graduation were: Claude Hamic, Romain Picard, P. W. Bordelon, and Dan Bulliard.

“S” Club Re-organized

THE “S” Club, composed of Southwestern lettermen, and under Alumni officiation was re-organized this year after remaining inactive for about five years. How our athletics have been able to stand at all through this period is amazing. It is no wonder that our teams have usually been losing ones.

The “S” Club was formed in 1922 to “encourage school activities at Southwestern especially among the varsity lettermen.” Upon re-organization this year, Tom Cambre was elected President, Gladu Dupuis, Vice-President, and Rexford McCullough, Secretary and Treasurer.

MEMBERSHIP in the Women's Athletic Association is conferred upon those students who are enrolled for at least two hours of sport a week. The Point System of National Women's Athletic Association is used; one hundred points for each sport.

This organization was formed to promote wholesome relations in athletics among girls.

The W. A. A. sponsors Stunt Night early in February and Colonial Ball on the Saturday preceding George Washington's Birthday. In May, the annual picnic is given.

Besides these events, various athletic contests are held. A tennis racket is awarded to the girl winning first place in the tournament in which over one hundred girls participate. In archery, the girl scoring the greatest number of points is given an award; about sixty girls participate.

The W. A. A. has an executive board—two girls are elected from each sport. Bi-monthly meetings are held by the board, and monthly meetings by the whole organization. This meeting takes place at one of the regular Wednesday assembly periods.

Wedding Invitations ~ Announcements and Social Stationery

The wedding is a life-time event of such dignity and solemnity that there must be no errors or incongruities. Every detail must be correct to be consistent with this dignity of occasion; therefore, the invitation must be of the finest quality, carefully engraved and correct in form as to wording and arrangement.

Your personal stationery, like the invitations, must be correct in style and reflect the charm of your personality, and we shall be happy to help you accomplish that very thing. You have noticed, no doubt, that genuine engraved monogram stationery has lately become very popular, and has been adopted by many who covet Fashion's favor.

It would be a pleasure to place before you examples of invitations, announcements and personal stationery that might serve as suggestions in planning something for yourself.
